

Provide Oral Hygiene for 900 Students

Why toothbrushing at school? Roughly one third of the population in Cambodia has Hepatitis B, a virus which can live without a host source for up to two weeks. Toothbrushing at home means a shared toothbrush with the high risk of spreading disease; toothbrushing at school means a daily routine after breakfast that our teachers can oversee.

At three rural primary schools supported by PLF, all children brush their teeth every day after breakfast. There are 900 children who need toothbrushes and toothpaste in their classrooms and those need to be replaced every four months.

$700 buys 2,700 toothbrushes per year
